News Briefs — The Conference

With Sincere Appreciation

Yesterday, Nov. 30, we in the conference office said "good-bye" to two longtime employees in the Finance & Administration office, Melissa Hernandez and Bette McDowell. Both have served our office and conference churches with a spirit of joy, grace and love. Melissa has welcome visitors at the front desk for 11 years. Her warm smile has endeared her to all who have walked through the doors. Bette has for seven years provided invaluable assistance to both local churches and clergy. She has provided sound guidance to them in preparing current and future pension/benefits expectations. They will be missed, and we wish them all the best that the future can bring.

Free Live Video Streaming Opportunity in Time for Christmas

The conference has been successful in working with OurChurchVideos.com in offering live video streaming of the 2010 Annual Conference worship services and awards program and, more recently, the Called Session. OCV is offering a free live video streaming opportunity during December when our local churches might want to try this feature on their websites. In order to stream, a church needs:

- a video camera
- ability to connect video and audio to a computer
- a dedicated computer (desktop or laptop) with Internet connection
- download a free program from Adobe.com
- free consultation from OCV

Many churches already record to DVD. For those, live streaming can be extremely easy. If churches can find or have access to a camera and a computer, OCV can help them get setup, make sure they are trained in how to use the software, and provide them with free live streaming through reliable servers through the end of the year. If interested, contact Eric Halverson at 800-381-8321 or visit <http://www3.ourchurchvideos.com/tp40/Default.asp?ID=209804>.

CTCYM Group Registration Deadline Approaching

Group registration is now open for CTC churches planning to join a CTCYM mission project next summer. Registration brochures and forms were sent to every church in October. Leaders can also download a registration form at www.ctcym.org. A $100 deposit per trip is due by Thursday, Dec. 9. Add a $50 late fee for group registrations postmarked after Dec. 9. Group registration will close Thursday, Jan. 6. Once a group is registered, leaders will receive more detailed instructions for the individual registration process.

ALERT: Webcasting Hazards Webinar

If your church is thinking about webcasting your worship services, there is more to consider than AV equipment, software, and hosting providers. There are several copyright hazards that you would be wise to avoid and there are free webinars Dec. 2 and again Dec. 9 that can help you avoid these legal traps. Get more information and register at no cost at:

Do You Time Bank?

Time Banking is a social change movement in 22 countries and six continents. For every hour you spend doing something for someone in your community, you earn one Time Dollar to spend on someone else helping you — at least that's the concept. If your congregation is participating in this program (www.timebanks.org) we'd like to know about it. Please contact Carolyn Stephens at Carolyn@ctcumc.org.

Holiday Times and Glen Lake Camp

It's a Busy Time Everywhere...Except at Glen Lake Camp & Retreat Center

Oh, the full-time staff has plenty to do...repairing the facilities and planning for an incredibly busy 2011 retreat season and Summer Camp. Glen Lake is adding Family Camp this summer, so staff "plates are full." The "quiet" is caused by the absence of "guests" from Thanksgiving through the first of the year. You are all spending time with family and church family. And that is how it should be! However, without "guests" GLC has no retreat income—and the camp bills just keep coming! Take a minute during The Race to Christmas Day to remember the critical ministry being prepared for you and your family at Glen Lake Camp & Retreat Center. You may send a contribution (check) to: Glen Lake Camp & Retreat Center, P. O. Box 928, Glen Rose 76043. Or visit Glen Lake at: www.glenlake.org to make an on-line contribution.

You can come to one day for $75 or both days for $100 (checks payable to Central Texas Conference). "I pray you will be able to take advantage of this opportunity," Eldredge said. "Normally a class like this would be at least $400 or more." RSVP to Vicki@ctcumc.org as soon as possible.

Carter left an indelible professional legacy at the board and in the annals of the UMC," said Thomas Kemper, the agency's chief executive. Jan. 10 is the deadline to apply for a Human Relations Day Grant from the UM General Board of Church & Society (GBCS). The grants are to support ministries that respond to non-violent young offenders through education, advocacy or leadership training and development. Gentzler Jr., the center's director, says submissions from local UM congregations, districts, annual conferences, central conferences and UM-related institutions may be submitted until the

Earlier this year, 38 grants totaling $75,000 were awarded for intergenerational ministries. Grant applications are available online at www.aging-umc.org. World Malaria Day 2011: Host a Malaria House Party

The UMC's Imagine No Malaria campaign is asking UMs to support a lifesaving cause by hosting a malaria house party for World Malaria Day, April 25, 2011, or in the months leading up to the event. "Ending malaria-related deaths is a goal that requires the commitment of UMs around the globe, but the fight against malaria can start in your own living room," said Bishop Thomas Bickerton, campaign spokesperson. A house party is a cause-oriented fundraising event that is usually held in a private home—although it may also be held in a church or some other community setting. There are countless ways to host a party—a small get-together, a formal dinner, a potluck, or as part of a New Year's, Super Bowl or Valentine's party—but people who are invited should have an interest in the cause and in learning more about it. To learn more about hosting a party or to sign up today, visit www.imaginenomalaria.org/houseparty.
